Saturday, February 6. 1703.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Feb. 13.

Vienna, January 31.

Within these few days, a great Quantity of Ammunition of all sorts has been sent towards the Ens; Count Schlick has receiv'd 100000 Guilders, and is on the point of setting out from hence, to take upon him the Command of the Troops that are to act against the Elector of Bavaria: All the Officers are order'd to be gone with all speed to their respective Regiments.

Nuremburg, Feb. 2. Yesterday a Trumpeter came hither from the Elector of Bavaria, with a Message to the Deputies of the Circle of Franconia, demanding that they should declare positively in twice 24 Hours, whether they would accept of a Neutrality or not; He has not had his Answer given him yet.

Frankfort, Feb. 7. The Deputies of the Circle of Franconia have return'd Answer to the Elector of Bavaria, that they are determin'd to abide by the Resolutions made by the Diet of the Empire at Ratisbon, and not to depart from the Alliance made between the Emperor, England, and Holland. Some Letters say, the Elector of Bavaria has Demanded a Contribution of 10000 Rixdollars of Nuremburg.

Ratisbon, Feb. 5. Yesterday we receiv'd Advice, That the City of Newbourg, situate on the Danube, after it had been besieged by the Bavarians 3 days, was deliver'd up by Capitulation on the 3d instant; the Electress Palatine Dowager, and her Son the Bishop of Ausburg, who were both in it, urging the Garrison to surrender: The Bavarians lost but 60 Men before it.

They write from Obenheim of the 6th, and from Dusseldorp of the 9th, That the Garrison of Newbourg, viz. Baron Iselbach's Regiment, are excluded the Capitulation granted to the Town, and made Prisoners of War.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Feb. 13.

Wesel, Feb. 9. Last Night Captain de Serres of this Garrison return'd hither from Rhinberg, with the Intendant of that Town, who brought with him the Capitulation Sign'd by the Marq. de Grammont, consisting of 31 Articles. To Day at Noon our Governour the Count de Lottum, sent 2 Commissaries and 2 Officers thither with the Capitulation Sign'd by him; and the Baron de Swerin has receiv'd Orders to go and take possession of the Gelder Port, with 2 or 300 Prussians, as soon as the Articles are exchange'd; and see that an inventory be taken of all that is found in the Magazines. Mean time the Intendant and Lieutenant-Collonel, who came hither first, continue here as Hostages, till the terms of the Capitulation are perform'd, for which 6 Days are allow'd.

Amsterdam, Feb. 12. 'Tis said the Prussians were to be put in Possession of one of the Gates of Rhinberg on the 9th: That of 24 Pieces of Cannon that are in the Place, the Garrison are to carry out 4 and 1 Mortar, together with Powder and Ball for 6 Discharges; and on the 13th or 14th, are to march out and be Conducted to Louvain.

From the Harlem Courant, dated Feb. 13.

Wesel, Feb. 12. The Town of Rhinberg has sur-rendred by Capitulation to the King of Prussia; 'tis said the Garrison was compell'd to it through want of Ammunition, with which they were so slenderly provided, that they could not have withstood the feeblest attack. The Garrison consists of 1400 Men, of which many are Sick; they were in no want of Provisions, except Salt, which began to be scarce with them. Some of their Officers are come into this City, to get Shoes for their Men, without which the greatest part of them are in no condition to march. The Markgrave Philip's Royal Regiment of Prussians has already taken possession of the Town.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Feb. 10.

Letters from Italy of the 26th of January, tell us, that they continue from time to time to Bombard Bersello, the Garrison of which Place is very much incommoded, not being able to get any more fresh Provisions. The Enemy Cannonade Bondanella with 4 Pieces of Cannon, which they have Planted on the other side of the Secchia, to oblige us to abandon that Post; but the Count de Vaubecourt has caus'd 6 Cannon to be plac'd advantageously to answer them, and has set his Men at work to fortify and enlarge that Post, and render it capable of receiving a Garrison of 5 Battallions. The Duke of Vendome left Guastalla on the 19th to go towards Bondanella. The Imperialists desert in great Numbers, because they are neither pay'd, nor Cloath'd, and are in great want of Provisions and Forrage. The Duke of Vendome, to strengthen them more still, has caus'd a Bridge to be laid over the Po at Borgoforte, which was to be finish'd on the 27th.

They write from Strasburg of the 31st of last Month, that the Marshal de Villars, had commanded some Troops to march towards the Upper Alsatia, on Advice that the Enemy were drawing together in great Numbers on the other side of the Rhine; but it appears since, that their Design was only to draw out some Detachments and send them into Swabia.

From the Paris Gazette a la main, dated Feb. 2.

Paris, Feb. 9. The King has receiv'd 2 Couriers from the Marshal de Villars, the first brought advice, that the Enemy had actually appear'd before the Fort on the other side of the Rhine over against Hunninghen, the Cannon of which Place was fir'd upon them, which made them retire; finding Monsieur Rosel, the Commander of that Fort, in so good a posture of Defence, they did not think it advisable to attack him: The 2d brought word, that the Marshal de Villars is posted at Kemps, with a great Detachment, to observe the Enemy, and prevent their Designs on Newbourg. After the arrival of the 2d Courier, the King gave Order for all the General and Subaltern Officers of the Army on the Upper Rhine, to go immediately to their Commands; And his Majesty said aloud, That his Army would pass the Rhine about the 10th of this Month.

The Marshal de Tallard, who 'tis believ'd is arriv'd at Metz, with the Marquess d'Usson one of his Lieutenant Generals, is likewise to march with a great Body of Troops; and if any credit may be given given to publick Reports, he is order'd on some important Expedition.

Advice is come, That a Company of 400 Religionaries of the Sevennes are defeated.
